

Vet Harmony Spring Offers

Is This You?

You're a veterinary surgeon or nurse who cares deeply about the profession - or at least the essence of why you joined it in the first place as I know we're facing a lot of challenges collectively currently.

The clients I work with tend to fall into two camps (or sometimes a blend of both):

Career Aligners

You might be:

- Feeling stuck, lost, or misaligned in your current role, even though you're competent and capable.
 - Wondering whether to pivot, redesign your current work, or leave clinical practice entirely.
 - Craving more freedom, balance, or creativity—but unsure how to make a change.
 - Struggling with overwhelm, decision fatigue, or feeling like you have too many hats and not enough headspace.
 - Holding back on making changes because you worry about letting others down, how you might be perceived, or losing financial security.

Career Designers

You might be:

- Passionate about making a positive difference in the profession and ready to lead or innovate.
 - Sitting on a brilliant side-hustle, leadership ambition, or creative idea you've never had the time or confidence to develop.
 - Looking to create something new—within your current role or beyond it—that feels more aligned with your values.
 - Wanting strategic support and a safe sounding board as you build, lead, or launch something meaningful.

If any of that sounds like you—good news. You're in exactly the right place! 🥳

What Transformation Can You Expect?

The people I work with leave our time together:

- ✦ Crystal clear on what they want from their career and life.
- ✦ Able to trust themselves to make bold, aligned decisions.
- ✦ With the tools and confidence to redesign or pivot their career in a way that honours their needs, passions and values.
- ✦ Feeling energised, empowered, and in control of their future.
- ✦ With stronger boundaries, improved wellbeing, and a clear action plan that feels both exciting and sustainable.
- ✦ Reconnected with the joy, purpose, and possibility that led them into the profession in the first place even if they evolve to use their skills in a different way.

What's It Like to Work With Me?

I'm passionate about creating a calm, supportive, and deeply empowering coaching space. Some of the words and themes that show up again and again in my feedback forms include:

- ♥ "Life-changing, confidence-building, and clarity-giving."
- ♥ "Supportive, honest, kind – Jenny helped me feel seen and validated."
- ♥ "I left with a clearer mind, lighter heart, and a plan I could actually follow."
- ♥ "Incredibly knowledgeable, intuitive and strategic – a rare and powerful combination."

What you'll get from me: no judgment, no pressure, just deep listening, powerful insight, and unwavering belief in your ability to create a career that truly works for you.

How Do I Help You Get There?

I work with people using my proven framework: The Veterinary Career Compass. It's a flexible, powerful method that supports both structured transformation and creative exploration.

It unfolds in three phases that help you to consciously evolve, align and design your next steps:

1. Basecamp - Evolve 🏕️

We start by getting grounded. We clarify your values, motivations, and personal definition of fulfilment. We gently unpack what's not working, and begin to strip back the internal and external pressures clouding your clarity.

2. Compass - Align 🧭

Next, we build self-trust and direction. This is where you start to sense what's next, and clear the fog of perfectionism, people-pleasing, or fear of the unknown. You'll develop strong decision-making tools and reconnect with your inner compass.

3. Map – Design 🗺️

Here we turn your insights into a plan. Whether you're redesigning your current role, planning a career pivot, or launching something new entirely, we build a personalised strategy that's doable, aligned, and exciting. You leave with a roadmap—and the confidence to follow it.

Why Me?

I've spent 25 years immersed in the veterinary profession – across both clinical & leadership roles, and combining corporate, independent, charity and referral veterinary roles. I've personally navigated ten different career pivots within the profession, and I bring all of that lived experience into my work.

I'm also an ICF Professional Certified Coach (PCC) and a Certified HBDI® Practitioner, trained in tools that help you understand how you think, feel and work best. I combine strategic clarity with emotional insight, trauma-informed coaching tools with deeply intuitive support and I work very collaboratively with my clients using a blended mix of coaching, training and mentoring.

This isn't coaching-by-numbers to a set formula, it's bespoke, intuitive, and grounded in both professional and personal experience.

If you're ready to feel more in alignment with your career and more in tune with yourself, I'd love to support you. You can lock in my current coaching rates until the end of March, even if we start the work later - see full details and options below.

Let's find your path forward. 🔥💖

Group Coaching Option:

My signature group coaching program, formerly called Veterinary Career Mastery, is about to be relaunched and uplevelled and will become the Career Compass Collective ✨.

This self-paced program gives you access to six powerful modules of tools and trainings that guide you through every step of my Veterinary Career Compass method. You can work through the content at your own pace, gaining skills you can rinse and repeat for any future career tweaks. Group coaching support will also be available for those who want it, with sessions restarting next month.

Currently this is available as a self-service online course with the group coaching element replaced by three short 30-min one-to-ones with me, as I've not been running it as a group program for a while now.

It's a great option if you can't afford one-to-one coaching right now or prefer working under your own steam, and (once the group element is going again from next month) this is a great option if you like to hear from others in similar situations and tap into the hive mind with like-minded people.

You can read about what's included here on the existing version. Price is currently £497.00 or 3 x £169.00/mth for lifetime access.

This will be moving in the next couple of months to £900.00 or 6 x £150.00/mth for 6 months' access and I'm adding in breathwork sessions and all sort of other exciting bits!

✨ If you want to jump in now on my old prices, you'll automatically get upgraded to the new version and keep your lifetime access rather than only 6 months access and you can get started with the modules immediately. ✨
